

Native tongues

As a family see how many different languages you can say thank you in. You could always use the internet to research new examples together.

