

There are lots of way in which we can love generously. Sharing what we have with others is one way.

