

Professional Tennis Coach

Certified by the (USPTA)

With over 30 years of experience in the tennis industry, I have devoted my life to coaching, developing athletes, and promoting the sport at both national and international levels. As a USPTA-certified professional, I have built a distinguished coaching career in both the United States and Greece. I have trained and mentored numerous champions, many of whom have earned full athletic scholarships to top U.S. universities. For over two decades, I served as Head Coach at the Kalamata Tennis Club, where many of my former players have gone on to become tennis coaches themselves. I am the founder and manager of several tennis facilities, including a high-performance Tennis Academy in Bradenton, Florida (est.2000) where athletes lived and competed in major tournaments. And the Kalamata Beach Tennis Club (est. 2012). I am also the author of two tennis books (Begin 10 & Under Tennis) and (Tennis Secrets) And hold a U.S. patent for the (Tennis Pilot) an innovative training device designed to enhance player development

PHILOSOPHY AND GOAL

After 30 years of experience in the United States my philosophy is clear: tennis is not just a sport – it is a way of life. My goal is to help athletes of all levels develop, discover their true potential, and build a strong athletic and mental foundation that will accompany them throughout their lives. Having coached top players, including a number one-ranked athlete in the U.S. and Florida, I know what it takes to reach the highest level. My new Academy in Kalamata will be a training ground for future champions, giving young athletes the opportunity to pursue their dreams—whether it is by competing on the world stage or earning scholarships to top U.S. Tennis Academies completely free of charge, through dedication and high-performance training. I am returning to give back, to inspire, and to build the future of Greek tennis.
