Investigation summary

1. The Compliance Officer for the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority carried out an investigation into whether Angus Robertson MP was paid an amount under the MPs' Expenses Scheme (the Scheme) that should not have been allowed.
2. The investigation was conducted in accordance with section 9(1) of the Parliamentary Standards Act 2009 (as amended by the Constitutional Reform and Governance Act 2010) (PSA).
3. The investigation was initiated by the Compliance Officer, as he had reason to believe Mr Robertson may have received funding for a claim relating to a website (www.angusrobertson.org) that did not comply with the rules of the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority (IPSA) as set out in the Scheme.
4. On 11 April 2011 the Compliance Officer notified Mr Robertson that he was the subject of a preliminary investigation and on 5 July 2011 the Compliance Officer opened a substantive investigation into this matter.
5. On 2 August 2011, the Compliance Officer issued a Statement of Provisional Findings. This statement provides full details of the investigation. The findings are summarised below.

Findings

6. The Compliance Officer found:
  - a. that, in contravention of the rules of the MPs' Expenses Scheme, Mr Robertson received reimbursement for a claim he submitted for costs relating to his website at a time when the website contained a party political logo as a weblink;
  - b. that Mr Robertson acted swiftly to rectify the contravention; and
  - c. that seeking a repayment for this contravention would be neither proportionate nor reasonable.

Resolution

7. Mr Robertson made no further representations.

8. No further action was required either of Mr Robertson or of IPSA and on 22 September 2011 the investigation was closed.

A. Introduction

1. The Compliance Officer<sup>1</sup> for the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority has carried out an investigation into whether Angus Robertson MP was paid an amount under the MPs' Expenses Scheme (the Scheme) that should not have been allowed. This investigation was conducted in accordance with section 9(1) of the Parliamentary Standards Act 2009 (as amended by the Constitutional Reform and Governance Act 2010) (PSA).
2. The investigation in respect of Mr Robertson was initiated by the Compliance Officer, as he had reason to believe Mr Robertson may have received funding for a claim relating to a website (www.angusrobertson.org) that did not comply with the rules of the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority (IPSA) as set out in the Scheme.
3. This statement sets out the Compliance Officer's provisional findings in respect of this investigation.
4. Mr Robertson and IPSA may make representations in writing to the Compliance Officer in respect of the provisional findings in this statement within fifteen working days of the date of this statement.
5. If representations are received, the Compliance Officer will consider these and may prepare a Statement of Findings.

B. Summary of the investigation

6. In December 2010 a member of the public made a complaint to the Compliance Officer about the use of party political logos on the website of an MP, the costs of which were claimed through the Scheme.
7. Sections 10.6 of the Second Edition of the Scheme, which was in effect at that time, stated that "[expenditure] may not be claimed for (a) funding any material that contains a party political logo or emblem; or (b) publishing any material which could be construed as election campaign expenditure within the scope of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000". Both the First Edition and the current (Third) Edition of the Scheme stated the same under sections 10.6 and 6.6 (d) and (f) respectively. The Scheme, therefore, does not provide for reimbursements of the costs of material that contains a party logo, no matter the size, location or purpose of the logo.

8. Following this complaint, the Compliance Officer carried out an inspection of all the websites of MPs where the costs of the websites had been claimed through the Scheme.
9. When Mr Robertson's website was checked as part of this inspection, it was found to contain a party political logo for the Scottish National Party (SNP) as a link to the SNP website. A snapshot was taken of the site and retained as evidence.
10. This inspection gave the Compliance Officer a reason to believe that Mr Robertson may have been reimbursed for a claim under the Scheme that should not have been allowed, and on 13 April 2011 a Notice of Preliminary Investigation was issued to the MP and IPSA in respect of the claim set out below.

Claim Number	Date	Category	Expense Type	Amount
48425	15/11/10	General Admin	Website - Design/Production	£587.50

11. Mr Robertson contacted the Compliance Officer by telephone on 19 April 2011 for further information in respect of the Preliminary Investigation. He followed this up with an email on the same day in which he advised the Compliance Officer that he had instructed the company hosting his website to remove the SNP logo from the link. Later that day, the hosting company confirmed by email that this had been done.
12. Upon request, IPSA supplied all original invoices and supporting documentation held on its files relating to the above claim.
13. On 5 July 2011, following an analysis of the documentation from IPSA and the correspondence with Mr Robertson, the Compliance Officer notified Mr Robertson of his decision to carry out a Substantive Investigation, on the grounds that he was satisfied that Mr Robertson may have been paid an amount under the Scheme that should not have been allowed. IPSA received a copy of the Notice of Substantive Investigation on 21 July 2011.
14. Section 9(4) of the PSA provides that the Compliance Officer give the MP and IPSA an opportunity to make representations in respect of the substantive investigation.
15. Mr Robertson spoke to the Compliance Officer by telephone and submitted representations in writing on 26 July 2011. IPSA submitted representations to the Compliance Officer in writing on 28 July 2011.
16. During the investigation, the Compliance Officer considered, in addition to Mr Robertson's website, IPSA's validation practices and IPSA's policy position in respect of the presence of party logos and emblems on MPs' websites. He also considered the representations submitted to him.

C. Provisional Findings

17. Following an assessment of the evidence in this case and having given consideration to both Mr Robertson's and IPSA's representations, the Compliance Officer has made the provisional findings set out below.

- i. The rules of the Scheme are clear that reimbursement may not be sought for the costs of material that contains a party political logo or emblem. IPSA has clarified that websites are covered by "material" and that it will not reimburse the cost of material that contains a party logo, no matter the size, location or purpose of the logo.
- ii. Mr Robertson submitted a claim for costs relating to his website, and received reimbursement for these costs from IPSA, despite the website containing an SNP logo as a link to the SNP website.
- iii. Mr Robertson therefore contravened the rules of the Scheme and received reimbursement for a claim that should not have been allowed. The Compliance Officer has decided not to apportion a particular amount to this contravention on the grounds that it is not necessary in this case to disaggregate the costs of designing and hosting party logos from the other costs of designing and hosting Mr Robertson's website.

18. When considering whether a repayment or penalty is appropriate in the case of a contravention of the Scheme, the Compliance Officer must consider a range of factors in order to ensure he adopts a proportionate and fair approach. The nature of the contravention, the nature of the claim that has been investigated, the context of the submission of the claim, and Mr Robertson's response are therefore relevant factors, and the Compliance Officer has provisionally found the following in respect of these:

- i. The contravention itself was minor in scale. With the exception of the presence of a party logo as a weblink on the "links" page of the website, Mr Robertson's website was compliant with the Scheme and did not otherwise contain SNP logos or emblems. It is hard to envisage any personal financial, political or other particular advantage to Mr Robertson resulting from the presence of a party political logo on the "links" page of his website.

- ii. The claim that has been subject to this investigation was for a paid-for service sought by Mr Robertson in pursuit of his parliamentary duties, rather than material goods that could more readily be exchanged or returned.
- iii. The claim in this case was made around six months following the 2010 General Election, following which the new Scheme came into effect. IPSA has stated in its representations in respect of this case that during this period it took time for both MPs and IPSA itself to become fully familiar with the Scheme, to the extent that for much of this early period IPSA operated a “grace period” during which it returned rather than refused claims it found to be outside the rules.
- iv. Following the notification that a Preliminary Investigation was underway, Mr Robertson took swift and welcome action to ensure the website complied with the Scheme. A recent inspection of the website confirmed that it remains compliant.

Conclusion

19. Under section 9(8) of the Act, the Compliance Officer may determine what amount is reasonable to request an MP repay. Taking all relevant factors, as set out above, into account, the Compliance Officer finds that in this case it would be neither proportionate nor reasonable to request a repayment from Mr Robertson. He finds the same in respect of any additional penalties.
20. Mr Robertson need take no further action.
21. The Compliance Officer does, however, remind Mr Robertson that he alone is responsible for the correct submission of claims and that a general condition of the Scheme is that “[i]n making any claim under the Scheme, an MP must certify that the expenditure was necessary for performance of their parliamentary functions, and that in incurring the expenditure they had complied with the Scheme” (section 3.2).

D. Representations and case resolution

22. Mr Robertson and IPSA may make representations in writing to the Compliance Officer in respect of these provisional findings within fifteen working days of the date of this statement.
23. If representations are received, the Compliance Officer will consider these and prepare a Statement of Findings.

24. The Compliance Officer may determine not to prepare a Statement of Findings, as per paragraph 36 of the Procedures for Investigations of the Compliance Officer, if Mr Robertson accepts the Provisional Findings.

Investigation closure report

On 24 August 2011 the Compliance Officer sent Mr Angus Robertson MP a Statement of Provisional Findings in respect of the investigation that was conducted in accordance with section 9(1) of the Parliamentary Standards Act 2009 (as amended by the Constitutional Reform and Governance Act 2010) (PSA).

The investigation was into the presence of political party logos on a website that was funded through the MPs' Expenses Scheme. The Statement of Provisional Findings sets out the details of the investigation and the Compliance Officer's reasoning for his findings.

The Compliance Officer also sent a copy of the Statement to the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority (IPSA).

Section 9(5) of the PSA provides that both the MP in question and IPSA are given the opportunity to make representations to the Compliance Officer about the provisional findings.

On 6 September 2011, IPSA's Chairman, Sir Ian Kennedy, wrote to the Compliance Officer to confirm that he would not be making any further representations in respect of this investigation.

Mr Robertson made no further representations.

No further action is required of Mr Robertson or of IPSA, and the Compliance Officer will not be preparing a Statement of Findings further to the Statement of Provisional Findings.

This investigation is now closed.
