Consequences of Misuse

Breaches of AE's ICT Acceptable Use Policy or failure to follow digital etiquette may lead to:

- Suspension or termination of IT access (including internet and Moodle)
- Disciplinary action under the Student Code of Conduct
- Referral to external authorities if illegal activity is involved.

If you are unsure whether something is appropriate, always ask before acting. For further details, refer to AE's full ICT Acceptable Use Policy available via Moodle or from Student Services.

Complaints and Appeals

AE is committed to providing a supportive, fair and transparent environment where students feel safe to raise concerns. We understand that sometimes difficulties may arise regarding academic decisions, administrative processes or personal experiences. AE offers a clear Complaints and Appeals process to ensure that your concerns are heard and addressed promptly and respectfully.

What is a Complaint or an Appeal?

- A complaint is when you express dissatisfaction about a service, decision or experience at AE. This could relate to teaching, facilities, administration or interactions with staff or other students.
- An appeal is a request to review a decision already made by Acknowledge Education. It is not a continuation of a complaint.
- You may appeal if the decision lacked due consideration of relevant facts or evidence, involved bias or a conflict of interest or was affected by a significant policy or procedural error.
- Some decisions may be appealed directly including Intention to Report letters, misconduct penalties, final assessment or grade outcomes after the required remark or resit process and suspension, deferral or cancellation of enrolment.
- Appeals must be submitted within 20 working days of the decision and include supporting evidence and the outcome you are seeking.

How to Raise a Complaint or Appeal

1. Informal Resolution

   Wherever possible, AE encourages students to resolve issues informally. Speak directly with the person involved. This could be your trainer, a student services officer or relevant staff member. Many concerns can be quickly resolved through open and respectful discussion.

2. Lodging a Formal Complaint or Appeal

   If the issue isn't resolved informally or if informal resolution is not appropriate, you can submit a formal complaint or appeal:

   a. Complete the relevant online form available through the AE student portal or request assistance from Student Services.
   b. Clearly outline the issue, including any supporting evidence.
   c. You have the right to request a translator or interpreter if needed and you may bring a support person (not a legal representative) to any meetings.

3. Assessment and Response

   a. AE will acknowledge receipt of your complaint or appeal and begin assessment within 10 working days.
   b. The matter will be handled fairly, confidentially and without any disadvantage to you.
   c. You will be informed in writing of the outcome, including reasons for the decision and any further steps.

4. Appeals (if required)

   a. If eligible, you may lodge an appeal requesting review of a decision made by Acknowledge Education. An appeal is not based on dissatisfaction with the outcome.
   b. The Appeals Panel is independent, free from conflicts of interest and reviews the decision in accordance with the permitted appeal grounds.

5. External Review

   If internal processes do not resolve the issue, AE will inform you of your right to take the matter to an external body, such as the National Student Ombudsman (domestic and international students) or Commonwealth Ombudsman (international students only), Equal Opportunity and Human Rights Commission or Consumer Affairs.

Important Points to Remember

- No Cost: There is no charge for lodging a complaint or appeal within AE.
- Safety and Support: You will not face discrimination or victimisation for raising a concern.
- Timely Resolution: AE is committed to resolving matters as quickly as possible.
- Confidentiality: All complaints and appeals are handled with strict confidentiality.
- Right to Continue Studies: You may continue attending classes while your complaint or appeal is being processed, unless health or safety concerns require otherwise.

Need Help?

If you are unsure how to proceed, Student Services can guide you through the process. You are also free to access independent advice and support from outside AE at any stage.

For full details, refer to the Complaints and Appeals Policy available on the AE website or contact studentcomplaints@ae.edu.au

SECTION 4: SUPPORT SERVICES

Academic Support Services and Academic Integrity at AE

At AE, we are committed to fostering a supportive learning environment where students can thrive academically while upholding the highest standards of integrity. Our dedicated Academic Integrity Team work together to ensure you have the guidance, resources and oversight needed for success.

Academic Support Services

Each AE campus hosts Academic Support Officers (ASOs) who are here to help you develop the essential skills required for academic success. Whether you're adjusting to academic life in Australia, returning to study or aiming to refine your academic abilities, our ASOs provide personalised support across a wide range of areas, including:

- Academic English Communication: Assistance with understanding academic language, sentence structure, grammar and clarity in written expression.

- Essay and Report Writing: Guidance on structuring arguments, developing coherent paragraphs and meeting academic conventions.

- Referencing and Citation: Help with correctly using referencing styles such as APA, avoiding plagiarism through proper acknowledgment of sources.

- Research Skills: Support in finding credible academic sources, critical reading and synthesising information.

- Presentation Skills: Coaching on how to effectively deliver oral presentations, including structure, visual aids and public speaking confidence.

- Understanding Assessment Tasks: Clarifying assessment instructions, expectations and how to meet marking rubrics.

- Time Management and Study Strategies: Techniques to manage workload, plan assessments and prepare for exams.

- Workshops and Resources: Regular free workshops on topics such as academic integrity, paraphrasing, critical thinking and using digital tools responsibly.

Our ASOs are approachable and experienced in supporting students from diverse backgrounds, including those for whom English is an additional language. You are encouraged to seek their assistance early and often throughout your studies.

Academic Integrity Officers

Academic integrity is central to AE's commitment to academic excellence, ethical scholarship and fairness. AE has an Academic Integrity Team led by the Team Leader of Academic Integrity with Academic Integrity Officers (AIOs) and ASOs on each campus to manage and promote integrity across all academic activities:

- Academic Support Officers (ASOs) proactively educate students about academic integrity. They investigate potential breaches, minor and major (Tier 1 and Tier 2), provide guidance on avoiding misconduct and support students in understanding proper academic practices.

- Academic Integrity Officers (AIOs) are responsible for reviewing serious breaches (Tier 3), such as plagiarism, collusion, contract cheating and fabrication. They assess cases, determine outcomes and ensure that responses are fair, transparent and aligned with AE's policies.

Breaches of academic integrity are classified into three tiers

Tier 1 – Minor Breach: Examples include incorrect referencing or minor paraphrasing issues. These are usually addressed by your Trainer with advice to meet with an ASO.

Tier 2 – Major Breach: Includes significant plagiarism, recycling of previous work without approval or falsification. These cases are referred to an ASO for investigation and resolution.

Tier 3 – Academic Misconduct: Serious breaches such as contract cheating, collusion or repeated offences. These are escalated to an AIO and may result in penalties, including grade reduction, failure of a unit or, in extreme cases, expulsion.

AE provides clear guidelines, training and resources to help you understand what constitutes academic misconduct and how to avoid it. You are encouraged to:

- Always acknowledge the work of others.

- Use digital tools ethically. AI platforms can assist with idea generation but must not be used to produce assessment content.

- Seek help from ASOs if unsure about referencing or academic writing.

- Participate in academic integrity workshops.

Remember, maintaining academic integrity is not just about avoiding penalties, it's about building skills, credibility and professional ethics that will serve you throughout your career.

For more detailed information, refer to AE's Fostering Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure, available via Moodle or by contacting your campus Academic Support Officer.

If you have questions or concerns about academic integrity or need academic support, don't hesitate to reach out, we're here to help you succeed the right way.

- Academic and English Requirements

- Additional Requirements

- Professional Recognition

- Duration

- Mode of Delivery

- Units of Competency

- Program Structure

- Fieldwork Placement (if relevant to your course)

- Important Contact Details

SECTION 7: ASSESSMENT SUBMISSION, RESUBMISSION, EXTENSION

Submission of Assessments

- Students are provided with details around all of the assessments in a given unit of the course; including the due dates of these on day one of the unit. This information is also located within the learning management system (LMS Moodle).

- Students are encouraged to commence assessments early in their allocated program and to seek assistance from the unit trainer, where required.

- Students are required to submit their first attempt of an assessment/activity by 23:59 hours (11:59 pm) on the due date. If a student does not submit their work on time this is classed as a 'Not Yet Satisfactory' result. In these instances the student in notified by the trainer/assessor and offered support.

- All assessments must be submitted on Moodle (apart from practical demonstrations and workplace assessments)

- Assessments submitted by email or in hard copy will not be accepted or considered submitted.

- All assessments must be submitted by the published due date, as outlined in your unit outline or on Moodle.

- Students may be provided with three opportunities to submit/demonstrate a satisfactory level of work in each assessment.

Assessment Extensions

AE understands that, at times, unforeseen circumstances may affect your ability to submit assessments on time. In such cases, you may apply for an extension. The process depends on when you apply and the length of extension required:

When to Apply	Length of Extension	How to Apply	Who Approves
Before Due Date	Up to 7 days	Request in writing via email to your Trainer	Tutor
Before Due Date	More than 7 days	Submit Special Consideration Form via Student Portal	Course Coordinator
After Due Date	At discretion of Course Coordinator	Submit Special Consideration Form via Student Portal Must be submitted within 3 working days of the due date	Course Coordinator

Important:

- Extensions are not automatically granted and require valid reasons supported by evidence (e.g., medical certificate).

- Late requests without proper documentation will only be considered under exceptional circumstances.

Always refer to your Unit Outline for assessment specific requirements and consult Moodle for updates.

Resit and Re-assessment Opportunities

AE recognises that sometimes students may need further opportunities to achieve a level of 'Satisfactory' and to demonstrate their knowledge and performance. In some instances, this may also require remedial training and support which is provided by a Trainer. Assessor comments within the assessment will provide guidance on the specific areas where the student is required to improve in order to receive a 'Satisfactory' level.

Students are offered a second attempt when it has been determined that they are seeking to proceed and have resolved any obstacles that were preventing them from submitting the first time. Students are encouraged to review the written feedback they may have received previously as this will guide students to adapt and adjust their learning strategies. The second attempt is generally due within three days of this determination. Submissions are monitored by the Unit Coordinator/Trainer/Assessor and by the Progress Team.

If, despite student efforts; they fail to submit/attend for a second attempt of an assessment, this is escalated to the Course Coordinator. The Course Coordinator may enable the student to undertake a third and final attempt however this requires a fee to be paid from the student of $50. Student services invoice the student accordingly. Once proof of payment has been shown by the student to the Student Services Officer, the Course Coordinator is notified to re-open the assessment / re-organise the assessment event in collaboration with the Trainer/Assessor.

If a student has submitted work which has been assessed as 'Not Yet Satisfactory' and they believe that their submission was in keeping with what was required, they are able to and are required to; complete an 'Application for Review or Remark of Assessment Form'. This is available on the Student Hub of the LMS. This is submitted to the Course Coordinator.

Special consideration

If a student has 'compassionate or compelling' circumstances which are impacting on their ability to complete assessable work or attend mandatory learning events which may include assessment, they may be eligible to receive special consideration which can only be granted from the Course Coordinator.

In these instances they must:

• Access the special Consideration Form via the Student Portal and submit this as close to the due date as possible. This is accepted no later than 3 days after the due date.

• Provide this form and supporting documentation which is authentic and true.

• Apply within three working days before the due date of the assessment/assessment event.

If approval is granted in writing, you will be provided with an extension of the due date. If approval is denied, the assessment submission will be deemed not yet satisfactory. You may be required to attend a meeting with the Trainer/Assessor and/or Course Coordinator.

Key Reminders

- Start assessments early to avoid last-minute problems.

- Back up your work regularly.

- Technical issues (e.g., computer failure) are not accepted as valid reasons for extensions.

- Uploading the wrong assessment will be considered as non-submission and may result in an investigation for academic misconduct if it compromises the accuracy of Turn-It-In scores for assessment submissions.

- Failing to upload an assessment before the due without prior approval for extension is considered non-submission of the first attempt of the assessment task.

- Communicate proactively with your trainer or Course Coordinator if you foresee any difficulties.

Failure to manage assessment deadlines responsibly can affect your academic progress and may lead to being classified as 'at risk' under AE's Course Progress Procedure.

For further guidance, contact your Course Coordinator or Student Services and always check Moodle for unit-specific assessment policies.

SECTION 8: IMPORTANT PROCEDURES

Credit Transfer (CT) and Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

AE recognises prior formal and informal learning through its Credit Transfer (CT) and Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) processes, ensuring students are not required to repeat equivalent learning.

Credit Transfer (CT)

You may be eligible for CT if you have completed equivalent units at AE or another institution. To apply:

1. Complete the Credit Exemption Request Form.
2. Provide certified transcripts and relevant completed units.
3. Submit your application during admission or before the unit commences.

CT does not incur a fee and will be recorded as CT on your transcript. You may be eligible to receive up to 50% credit transfer for prior study. However, if your course is accredited by a professional body, that body may set its own rules about how much credit can be transferred and what prior learning can be recognised. In these cases, the professional body's requirements will apply, even if they are more restrictive than the standard 50% limit.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

RPL applies where you have gained relevant skills and knowledge through work experience, professional development, or informal learning.

To apply for RPL:

1. Submit evidence such as portfolios, resumes, third-party reports and a reflective essay addressing learning outcomes.
2. Undertake an assessment if required.
3. Pay the applicable RPL fee upon successful assessment.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is also capped at 50% of your course and will be recorded as RPL on your academic transcript. Where a course is accredited by a professional body, that body may set separate limits or requirements for RPL. In these cases, the professional body's rules will apply instead.

Both CT and RPL applications must meet AE's academic standards and professional accreditation requirements where applicable.

If your application is unsuccessful, you have the right to appeal through AE's Complaints and Appeals Policy.

For more information on any of these processes, including forms and deadlines, visit the Student Portal or contact Student Services.

Course Progress Requirements

At AE we want you to feel supported every step of the way in your learning journey. To help you stay on track, we regularly monitor your course progress and provide early support if you're experiencing difficulties.
Here's how the process works:

- Your attendance is recorded each time you attend class.
- You are required to attend 80% of your classes.
- You are required to Satisfactorily complete all assessments for each enrolled unit in every study period.

This helps us make sure you're progressing well and, if needed, we can work with you to put a support plan in place.

Monitoring Course Progress
AE formally reviews student progress at the end of each teaching period. Academic staff assess whether you are:

- Progressing as expected
- 'At risk' of not meeting progress requirements or
- Not making satisfactory course progress.

You will be contacted via your AE email if concerns are identified.

'At Risk' Students
You may be identified as 'at risk' if:

1. You fail more than 50% of your units in a single teaching period.
2. Your attendance falls below the required minimum of 80%.
3. Your academic performance indicates you may not complete your course within the expected timeframe.
4. You demonstrate poor engagement such as repeated non-submissions of assessments or low attendance.

If you are deemed 'at risk':

1. You will receive a notification by email.
2. You must attend an Intervention Strategy Meeting within five working days.
3. Together with AE staff, you will develop a personalised Formal Intervention Plan (FIP) to support your success.

This strategy may include:
1. Requiring the student to have regular progress review meetings with the Student Progress Team
2. Approving a reduced study load for a specified period of time
3. Referral to an Academic Support Officer
4. Requiring participation in academic workshops and/or study support sessions
5. Referral to the Pathway 2 Success Program for one study period
6. Referral to Counselling and/or Wellbeing services
7. Referral to an academic staff member for additional academic instruction and/or subject specific support
8. Recommending a suspension of studies where compassionate and compelling circumstances apply

Failure to engage with the intervention process may lead to further action including warnings or exclusion.

Reporting Course Progress Breaches
Students who are deemed as not meeting course progress may be reported to the Department of Home Affairs (DHA) via an Intention to Report (ITR). You will have 20 working days to appeal this decision through AE's Complaints and Appeals Process.

Course Transfer or Withdrawal
If your study goals or circumstances change, AE has clear processes to support course transfers or withdrawals, especially for international students under ESOS regulations.

Transferring to Another Provider (International Students)

International students cannot transfer from their principal course within the first six months unless:

- There are compassionate or compelling circumstances
- AE fails to deliver the course or
- The transfer is in your best academic or personal interest.

You must submit a Course Withdrawal Form and provide a valid enrolment offer from the new provider. If approved, AE will process your release in PRISMS at no cost. If denied, you will receive written reasons and can appeal.

Transferring to AE
AE will only enrol students transferring from another provider within the first six months of their principal course if specific conditions are met, such as provider closure or government support for the transfer.

All transfer applications are assessed within 20 working days. For more information, contact the Registrar or refer to AE's Student Transfer Assessment Policy.

Deferment, Suspension and Cancellation
AE allows for deferment, suspension or cancellation of enrolment in limited circumstances, ensuring compliance with regulatory requirements and supporting student wellbeing.

Student-Initiated Deferment or Suspension

You may request to defer or suspend your studies due to compassionate or compelling circumstances (e.g., illness, bereavement, major disruptions). Submit the relevant form via the Student Portal or email registrar@ae.edu.au. Decisions are made within 10 working days.

AE-Initiated Suspension or Cancellation

AE may suspend or cancel enrolment for reasons such as:

- Non-payment of fees.
- Breach of visa conditions (for international students).
- Serious misconduct.
- Failure to engage in intervention strategies.

If AE decides to suspend or cancel your enrolment, you will be notified of AE's intention and will have 20 working days to appeal. International students will be informed of any visa implications and changes will be reported to PRISMS.

For full details, refer to the Deferment, Suspension, Cancellation and Withdrawal Policy.

Graduation and Course Completion Processes
AE celebrates your achievement once you have successfully completed all course requirements.

Course Completion
Upon fulfilling academic requirements, including any field placements or capstone projects, AE will issue your official transcript and certificate of participation (your official graduation certificate). To receive this documentation, you must first ensure that all fees are paid and administrative obligations are met.

Graduation
AE holds formal graduation ceremonies where eligible students are invited to attend and receive their award. You will be notified of ceremony dates and registration procedures via your AE email.

If you are unable to attend, you may collect your certificate at a later date or nominate a representative to collect it on your behalf.

For further details, including timelines and eligibility, contact Student Engagement or visit the Student Hub.

SECTION 9: STUDENT REPRESENTATION

Student Feedback and Continuous Improvement

At AE, student feedback is integral to our commitment to providing a high-quality, student-centric learning experience. Continuous improvement is not just a policy, it's a practice-driven by listening to our students and ensuring your voice shapes teaching, support services and the broader learning environment.

Surveys and Feedback Opportunities

Throughout your studies, you will be invited to share your experiences through various formal and informal feedback channels, including:

- Unit and Teaching Evaluations: Conducted at the end of each trimester to gather feedback on unit content, teaching quality and learning resources.
- Student Experience Surveys: Broader surveys, such as the QILT Student Experience Survey (SES), capturing insights into your overall academic and campus life.
- Placement Feedback: For students undertaking field education or work placements, targeted surveys assess placement quality and support.
- Focus Groups and Consultations: Opportunities to contribute to specific improvement initiatives or institutional projects.
- Day-to-Day Feedback: AE encourages open dialogue with Trainers, Course Coordinators, Student Services Officers and Placement Officers at any time during your studies.

The Role of the Student Representative Council (SRC)

The SRC is a key mechanism for ensuring student voices are heard at every level of AE. As an elected body representing all programs and campuses, the SRC advocates for student interests, raises concerns and suggests improvements related to both academic and student life.

To embed student perspectives within AE's governance framework SRC members are invited to participate in Teaching and Learning Committee (TLC) and Academic Board (AB) meetings through a rotating representation model. Each campus nominates an SRC member to attend a TLC meeting followed by the next AB meeting, after which representation is passed to another campus' SRC member. This ensures diverse representation across courses, disciplines and locations. This structured approach guarantees that feedback reflects the experiences of students from various programs and all campuses, supporting AE's commitment to inclusivity and continuous improvement.

Student Representation in Course Advisory and Review Committees

In addition to the SRC, AE ensures that student input directly shapes course content and delivery through Course Advisory and Review Committees (CARCs). These committees play a critical role in maintaining the relevance, quality and industry alignment of AE's programs.
Current students in the later stages of their studies, or recent graduates, are engaged as paid members of these committees. Their role is to provide firsthand insights into the student learning experience, assessment practices, curriculum relevance and overall course design.
This formal involvement ensures that student perspectives actively influence curriculum development, review processes and the strategic direction of AE's academic offerings.

How Student Feedback is Used

Feedback collected through surveys, SRC participation, CARCs and informal channels is central to AE's continuous improvement cycle. Aligned with AE's Strategic Plan 2024–2027, particularly the focus on Lifelong Engagement and Continuous Improvement, your feedback informs:

- Curriculum Enhancements: Updates to course content, assessment methods and teaching strategies.
- Support Services Improvements: Refinements to academic support, wellbeing initiatives, placement coordination and campus facilities.
- Governance and Compliance: Ensuring AE exceeds regulatory standards by embedding student perspectives in quality assurance processes.
- Strategic Decision Making: Student feedback directly shapes operational priorities and long-term planning.

AE is committed to transparency by closing the feedback loop. Outcomes and actions resulting from student feedback are communicated via SRC updates, Moodle announcements, newsletters and campus forums, so you can see how your input leads to real change.

By participating in these feedback opportunities, whether through surveys, SRC roles or advisory committees, you play an essential role in shaping not only your educational experience but also that of future students at AE.
