IMPORTANT NOTE: If cancellation of a confirmed booking is as a result of flight cancellation not related to the aforementioned restrictions the GENERAL cancellation terms apply. In most cases Comprehensive Travel Insurance policies cover this eventuality.

The aforesaid cancellation fees and the proportions thereof have been calculated with reference to Singita's diminished ability to re-sell reservations during the relevant time periods and accounting for the costs incurred by Singita in order to fulfil its obligations in terms of reservations made by Counterparties, which costs include, but are not limited to: (i) operational costs, including staff and office costs; (ii) costs incurred in respect of credit card commissions to receive various payments; and (iii) food, wine and beverages purchases in anticipation of the arrival of guests.

A Counterparty who is a direct guest, is required to take out comprehensive travel insurance within 21 days of confirming their booking, to cover, inter alia, the cancellation or curtailment of their trip. A Counterparty who is a travel partner is required to comply with clause 2.1 of the Agreement, which includes a duty to inform its travel partners and/or guests to take out comprehensive travel insurance. In each instance, the travel insurance taken out by a Counterparty must cover all Force Majeure Events and other events beyond Singita's control that may result in the cancellation of travel, in respect of which the cancellation policy contained in these Terms & Conditions shall apply. Under no circumstances shall Singita be liable as a result of any failure by the Counterparty to take out comprehensive travel insurance and, in circumstances where the Counterparty is a travel partner, as a result of the Counterparty failing to inform its travel partners and/or guests to take out comprehensive travel insurance as aforesaid.

For the purposes of these Terms & Conditions and/or any Agreement concluded with a Counterparty, "Force Majeure Events" mean any event or act of God which is beyond a party's reasonable control, which it could not reasonably have foreseen, or which was foreseen and which, having arisen, that party could not avoid or overcome by taking all reasonable steps to do so and which event renders it impossible for a party to perform its obligations in terms of these Terms & Conditions and/or any Agreement concluded with a Counterparty, in part or at all, including but not limited to, acts or omissions of any government, government agency, provincial or local authority or similar authority, any laws or regulations having the force of law, civil strife, riots, insurrection, sabotage, acts of war or public enemy, legal and illegal strikes, interruption of transport, lockouts, acts of God, plague, epidemics, pandemics, official declared state of emergency or national disaster, embargoes, sanctions, fire, flood, storms, tempest or earthquake.

The Counterparty indemnifies Singita and holds it harmless against all or any claims, loss, liability, damage and/or costs which may arise out of any failure by the Counterparty to obtain comprehensive travel insurance as stated above, including but not limited to any loss that may be suffered by the Counterparty as a result of cancellation fees levied in accordance with the cancellation policy contained in these Terms & Conditions.

In the event that the Counterparty is a travel partner, such Counterparty:

- o is obliged to inform its travel partners and guests of these Terms & Conditions, particularly Singita's rights to cancellation fees as contemplated hereunder, including where a Force Majeure Event has occurred;
- o acknowledges that it shall remain liable for and is obliged to pay cancellation fees to Singita notwithstanding that the travel partners or guests of such Counterparty may cancel reservations with it; and
- o is advised to align its own contracts with Singita's cancellation policy.

In the event that the Counterparty is a direct guest, such Counterparty:

- o will be deemed to have read and understood these Terms & Conditions, particularly Singita's rights to cancellation fees as contemplated hereunder, including where a Force Majeure Event has occurred; and
- o acknowledges that it shall be liable for and is obliged to pay cancellation fees to Singita.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained or implied in these Terms & Conditions and/or any Agreement concluded with a Counterparty, the Counterparty shall not have any right, remedy, or claim of any nature whatsoever against Singita nor Singita's related or inter-related persons, employees, agents or contractors (in whose favour this constitutes a stipulatio alteri, the benefits of which shall be deemed to have been accepted on the date that these Terms & Conditions are published) and the Company indemnifies the aforesaid persons and holds them harmless against all or any losses, damages (whether general, special or consequential), expenses or injuries, whether actual or contingent, which may be suffered by the Counterparty (including where the Counterparty is a travel partner, its directors, its employees, its travel partners and/or guests), directly or indirectly, in connection with or arising from these Terms & Conditions and/or any Agreement concluded with a Counterparty, howsoever arising, save for any loss, damage, expense or injury which arises as a result of the gross negligence, wilful misconduct and/or breach by Singita of the provisions of these Terms & Conditions and/or any Agreement concluded with a Counterparty. Without derogating from the generality of the aforesaid, Singita shall have no liability to the Counterparty in respect of such loss, damage, expense or injury which may be suffered by the Counterparty by reason of or arising out of a Force Majeure Event(s), the loss of personal effects, personal injury, medical emergencies, emergency travel arrangements, cancellations, the curtailment of travel plans and/or any failure to obtain comprehensive travel insurance in accordance with the provisions of these Terms & Conditions and/or any Agreement concluded with a Counterparty.

THIRD PARTY SERVICE PROVIDERS

- o The Counterparty shall not have any right, remedy, or claim of any nature whatsoever against Singita nor Singita's related or inter-related persons, employees, agents or contractors (in whose favour this constitutes a stipulatio alteri, the benefits of which shall be deemed to have been accepted on the date that these Terms & Conditions are published), and the Counterparty indemnifies the aforesaid persons and holds them harmless against all or any claims, losses, damages (whether general, special or consequential), expenses or injuries, whether actual or contingent, which may be suffered by any person or entity, directly or indirectly, in connection with or arising from the provision of services by any third party service providers to the Counterparty, howsoever arising (save for any losses, damages, expenses or injuries which arises as a result of the gross negligence or wilful misconduct of Singita), irrespective of whether:
 - o any such losses, damages, expenses, or injuries can be legally imputed to Singita in any manner, whether jointly with or separately from any third-party service provider; or
 - o a claim is independently found against Singita.
