The diagram illustrates the layout of a document page. It features a large black rectangular area at the top, representing a header or image. Below this, the page is defined by three nested rectangular boundaries: a solid orange line for the overall format, a dashed orange line for the finished size, and a dashed pink line for the safe zone. Three horizontal arrows on the left side point to these boundaries, each with a corresponding text label. The top arrow is blue and points to the top edge of the orange border. The middle arrow is orange and points to the top edge of the dashed orange border. The bottom arrow is pink and points to the top edge of the dashed pink border.
