

EGGSPOSÉ

Corporations profiting from animal cruelty

2023

NEARLY ALL MAJOR FOOD COMPANIES IN THE UNITED STATES HAVE PUBLICLY COMMITTED TO PHASING BATTERY CAGES OUT OF THEIR SUPPLY CHAINS BY 2025.
BUT NOT ALL OF THEM ARE PUBLICLY KEEPING THEIR PROMISE

Each of these companies has failed to publicly follow up on their promises to animals and customers alike. Despite their commitments, there are still millions of hens suffering in battery cages so small they can't spread their wings or raise their head.

NOW IT'S TIME FOR TRANSPARENCY.

EGGPOSED

These companies promised to source only cage-free eggs, but their commitments are now past due. They're refusing to be transparent with their customers and failing to publicly report their progress. Dozens of other companies, including their competitors, have followed through on their promises—WHY CAN'T THEY?

CUSTOMERS BEWARE OF THESE BRANDS.

Clearly advertises cage-free eggs but won't report progress for all ingredient eggs.

Wendy's

Switched to cage-free at a small portion of locations (those that were already serving breakfast when they made their commitment) but will not commit to transition to cage-free eggs at the remaining majority of restaurants now that breakfast is served nationwide, unlike other top-fast food chains who have commitments for all locations

OMNI  HOTELS & RESORTS

Committed to be cage-free by 2019 but still has not reported progress.

CUSTOMERS BEWARE OF THESE BRANDS.

FOGO DE CHÃO
BRAZILIAN STEAKHOUSE

Committed to be cage-free by 2019
but removed policy without reporting progress.

pilot FLYING

Committed to be cage-free by 2023
but still has not reported progress.

HuVee
EMPLOYEE OWNED

Committed to be cage-free by 2022
but still has not reported progress.

Wawa

Committed to be cage-free by 2020
but removed any meaningful policy commitment without reporting progress.
Will not specify if cafe items are cage-free.

ON THE BORDER

Committed to be cage-free by 2020
but still has not reported progress.

CUSTOMERS BEWARE OF THESE BRANDS.

GENUINE

Committed to be cage-free by 2021
but still has not reported progress.

GOURMET GARAGE.

Committed to be cage-free by 2017
but removed policy from its website
without reporting progress.

CHOPT

Committed to be cage-free by 2023
but removed policy without reporting progress.

SPB HOSPITALITY

Committed to be cage-free by 2022
but removed policy from its website
without reporting progress.

 FRESH N LEAN[®]

Committed to be cage-free in 2020 but have not confirmed fulfillment.

CUSTOMERS BEWARE OF THESE BRANDS.

Committed to be cage-free by 2020 but removed meaningful policy commitment without reporting any progress.

InterContinental Hotels Group

Committed to be cage-free in the US by 2022 but reporting progress by percentage of hotels with a cage-free egg brand or standard.

Committed to be cage-free by 2020 but still has not reported progress in North America.

Committed to be cage-free by 2020 but removed policy from its website without reporting progress.

According to the USDA and industry media outlets: NCBI, Winsight Grocery Business, Progressive Grocer; Allegiance committed to go cage-free by 2022, but Allegiance disputes having made any commitment to go cage-free.

CUSTOMERS BEWARE OF THESE BRANDS.

SOUTHERNSM

Committed to be cage-free by 2020
but removed policy without
reporting progress.

Committed to be cage-free by 2020 - then pushed back fulfillment timeline to 2024 - and still has not reported progress.

Committed to be cage-free by 2018
but removed policy without
reporting progress.

THE TIME HAS COME FOR THESE COMPANIES TO END THEIR COMPLICITY

in one of the cruelest practices of modern animal agriculture if they haven't done so already.

Forcing hens to spend their lives in painful, restrictive cages is not okay—and customers know it. So do hundreds of other companies, including many direct competitors of businesses like these, who have already publicly followed through on their promises.

We need your help to hold these companies accountable. These companies in this report pledged to do better for animals because customers demanded change. Now it's time to send a clear message that empty promises won't cut it.

Visit thehumaneleague.org to join the global movement of concerned citizens fighting for animals and pushing back against corporate greed.

For more information about the industry-wide shift to cage-free, see our cage-free primer.