Most helpful if made when someone has a specific diagnosis.

What can you do now to prepare for things like...

- ...age-related decline, such as Alzheimer's?
- ...a serious accident or traumatic head injury?
- ...severe mental illness?
- ...a stroke?

Planning begins with thinking about what's important to you.
It involves deciding who you'd want to speak for you,
when you can't speak for yourself.
And it involves preparing legal documents.
