WHY YOU NEED WHOLE BODY CLEANSE

Detox starts in the liver, but your gut and kidneys also play an important role. That's why Whole Body Cleanse is designed to support overall gut health and promote gentle, daily detox in the gut-liver and gut-kidney axis.*

Unlike typical detox products that focus solely on the liver, Whole Body Cleanse supports the critical third phase of detoxification—elimination. While the liver processes toxins in Phases I and II (see our LiverTone™ supplement), Whole Body Cleanse ensures these toxins exit the body via stool and urine.

Toxins don't take a day off. Help your body flush them out with a blend of powerful antioxidants and fiber-bound polyphenols for natural detoxification, gut health, and regularity support.*

Without this final phase, toxins can be reabsorbed, leading to inflammation, sluggish digestion, and a burdened detox system. This formula helps keep things moving, protect essential mineral balance, and maintain a healthy detox rhythm—day in and day out.*

Science-backed, plant-powered ingredients

Packed with organic baobab fruit fiber, prickly pear juice powder, and kombucha-fermented green tea, Whole Body Cleanse promotes regularity, supports reduced water retention, and nourishes a healthy gut microbiome. Combined with antioxidant-rich ingredients and fiber-bound polyphenols, it helps maintain optimal gut function and overall metabolic health.*

Healthy gut, healthy you

Your gut impacts your overall wellness—from digestion and nutrient absorption to immune defense and detoxification. By addressing the gut-liver axis and supporting daily digestion, Whole Body Cleanse supports healthy cholesterol levels, blood sugar levels, appetite regulation, and a trimmer waistline when paired with hydration and a healthy lifestyle. Gentle enough for daily use, vegan, and non-GMO, this formula is ideal for those seeking to feel lighter, brighter, and supported from the inside out. It's not just a cleanse—it's part of your daily ritual for full-body wellness.*
