Shipping Policy

Orders typically leave our facility within 3-5 business days. However, depending on availability, some parts may be placed on backorder. RTRW maintains an extensive inventory to provide you with the best possible service. However, due to the unique nature of our products some parts sell out despite our best efforts. Back ordered parts will be shipped separately at no additional cost. If you are working on tight schedule we recommend calling to check stock on the items you need. Some parts may be considered oversized, or require special mailing tubes and additional charges may apply.

Return Policy

We accept returns if you are unsatisfied for any reason with your RTRW purchase. We charge no restocking fees, and have no time limits for returns. Parts for return must be in re-sellable condition. Parts do not have to be in original packaging. Cut or modified parts cannot be returned. We recommend test fitting all parts on a clean vehicle surface prior to installing. Return shipping is the responsibility of the buyer unless we make a mistake on the order. T-shirts and other clothing related items can only be returned if they are in the original sealed package. To request a refund please give us a call
