Baily's ECU Unlock Computer modifications for software on 2015+ Dodges	1	280.00

Unlocking the ECU, as well as other alterations to the automobile, will void original Equipment Manufacturer warranty often referred to as the OEM or factory warranty as well as any Extended Warranty you may have purchased to cover future repairs to the automobile. Warranting repairs and recall's to your automobile after it is altered would be at the discretion of the OEM. Plainly stated: Typically this type of alteration, if confessed or detected, WILL VOID YOUR VEHICLES WARRANTIES. Warranty periods are a form of insurance you paid for when you purchased your automobile. If voiding the OEM warranty is a concern, you should wait for your warranty period to expire before you have this service performed to receive the full benefit.

By accepting to proceed with the work outlined and or initialing and signing below, you are forever releasing and holding harmless BHF, its affiliates, agents, contractors, employees, vendors, and other third party service providers from any and all liabilities, claims, violations, damages, court costs, attorney's fees and other actions that may arise from any civil, administrative or criminal claim, suit, complaint or action for personal injury, death, losses or damage, or violations of any kind, occurring, either directly or indirectly, in connection with Customer's vehicle.
