Please review this important information about receiving the title or release of lien, if applicable:

- If the title or release of lien should be mailed to anyone other than the borrower on the loan, include those instructions and complete mailing address with the payoff check.
- The payoff method and any state-specific requirements will determine the lien release processing time as required by law, if the funds used to pay off the loan have cleared the bank.
- If the state titling agency didn't require a title for the collateral, the state will be notified that the lien has been satisfied once the payoff has cleared.
- If the funds don't clear the bank, the title or release of lien will not be released.
