

BTH152 Biblical Theology II Syllabus Highlights

For all the promises of God find their Yes in him.
—2 Corinthians 1:20

Dr. Matthew A. Dudreck

Course Description

A survey of the content of New Testament Biblical Theology, focusing on the relationship between the testaments and emphasizing the “better things” of the New Covenant.

Learning Outcomes

1. Know and evaluate the competing conceptions of New Testament Biblical Theology.
2. Recognize the importance of Eschatology and Ecclesiology in New Testament Biblical Theology.
3. Understand the major biblical-theological themes of the New Testament.
4. Know and articulate the organic connection between the Old and New Testament.
5. Be familiar with the exegetical foundation for a Reformed New Testament Biblical Theology.
6. Recognize the necessary complementarity between Biblical and Systematic Theology.
7. Employ Biblical Theology to benefit one’s teaching, service in the church, and life as a Christian.

Textbooks

1. Richard P. Belcher, The Fulfillment of the Promises of God: An Explanation of Covenant Theology (Mentor, 2020).
2. Benjamin L. Gladd, From Adam and Israel to the Church: A Biblical Theology of the People of God (IVP Academic, 2019).
3. Additional textbooks will be listed in the full syllabus.

Course Requirements

1. Attend and participate in class.
2. Complete all reading assignments and submit a reading report.
3. Complete weekly assignments that track closely with the required readings.
4. Complete midterm and final exams.
5. Write a theological thesis paper on an approved topic within Biblical Theology, with a focus on the New Testament.

*This abbreviated syllabus is subject to revision. A full syllabus will be provided on the first day of class.