

STH203 The Doctrine of Humanity

Syllabus Highlights

*So God created man in his own image,
in the image of God he created him;
male and female he created them*
—Genesis 1:27

Dr. Keith A. Mathison

Course Description

A study of mankind in the state of innocence, sin and grace, including his creation, the material and immaterial aspects of his being, and his fall.

Learning Outcomes

The primary outcome is to understand the doctrine of humanity in its exegetical, confessional, historical, and cultural contexts. At the end of this course, successful students will be able to:

1. Interpret relevant biblical texts for developing a biblical doctrine of humanity.
2. Relate the doctrine of humanity to other topics in systematic theology.
3. Articulate the development of human nature in its fourfold state.
4. Appreciate the significance of covenant theology for a biblical anthropology.
5. Defend biblical definitions of gender, marriage, family, and sexuality.

Textbooks

1. Joel R. Beeke and Paul M. Smalley, Reformed Systematic Theology, Vol. 2, Man and Christ (Crossway, 2020).
2. John Calvin, Institutes of the Christian Religion, trans. Henry Beveridge (Hendrickson, 2008).
3. Mark Jones, Knowing Sin (Moody, 2022)
4. Nancy R. Pearcey, Love Thy Body (Baker, 2018).
5. Carl R. Trueman, Strange New World (Crossway, 2022).

Course Requirements

1. Attend and participate in class.
2. Complete all weekly reading assignments and worksheets.
3. Complete written project on a theme in Pearcey's Love Thy Body or Trueman's Strange New World.
4. Complete final exam.

*This abbreviated syllabus is subject to revision. A complete syllabus will be provided on the first day of class.
