

Appraisal Information

Crocker Art Museum staff are unable to authenticate or perform appraisals on works of art or artifacts for the general public. If you are interested in having a work of art appraised, we suggest that you consult a reputable art dealer, appraiser, or auction house.

The following list includes national professional associations and organizations that provide a referral service, as well as individuals who identify themselves as professional appraisers in Northern California. This list is not inclusive and does not indicate any preferences or endorsements by the Museum.
