Additional information

<sup>1</sup>Scheme responsible for the protection of your eligible deposit

Your eligible deposit is covered by a statutory Deposit Guarantee Scheme. The bank or building society must be authorised by the Prudential Regulation Authority. If insolvency of your bank, building society or credit union should occur, with effect from 1st December 2025; your eligible deposits would be repaid up to £120,000 by the Deposit Guarantee

<sup>2</sup>General limit of protection

If a covered deposit is unavailable because a bank, building society or credit union is unable to meet its financial obligations, depositors are repaid by a Deposit Guarantee Scheme. With effect from 1st December 2025; this repayment covers a maximum of £120,000 per bank, building society or credit union. This means that all eligible deposits at the same bank, building society or credit union are added up in order to determine the coverage level. If, for instance a depositor holds a savings account with £100,000 and a current account with £40,000, he or she will only be repaid £120,000.

Where you hold your money could affect how much compensation you're entitled to. If you have money in multiple accounts with multiple banks that are part of the same banking group (and share a banking licence) FSCS have to treat them as one bank. This means that in the event of a firm failure, the £120,000 compensation limit applies to the total amount you hold across all these accounts, not to each separate account.

In some cases eligible deposits which are categorised as "temporary high balances" are with effect from 1st December 2025 protected up to £1,400,000 for six months after the amount has been credited or from the moment when such eligible deposits become legally transferable. These are eligible deposits connected with certain events including:

- a) certain transactions relating to the depositor's current or prospective only or main residence or dwelling;
- b) a death, or the depositor's marriage or civil partnership, divorce, retirement, dismissal, redundancy or invalidity;
- c) the payment to the depositor of insurance benefits or compensation for criminal injuries or wrongful conviction.

For bank, building society, or credit union failures before 1 December 2025, the FSCS protection limit is £85,000 per depositor per firm. The limit for temporary high balances for 6 months before 1st December 2025 is £1,000,000.

More information can be obtained at <http://www.fscs.org.uk>.

In the case of joint accounts, the limit of £120,000 applies to each depositor.

However, eligible deposits in an account to which two or more persons are entitled as members of a business partnership, association or grouping of a similar nature, without legal personality, are aggregated and treated as if made by a single depositor for the purpose of calculating the limit of £120,000.

<sup>4</sup>Reimbursement

The responsible Deposit Guarantee Scheme is the Financial Services Compensation Scheme, 10th Floor Beaufort House, 15 St Botolph Street, London, EC3A 7QU, Tel: 0800 678 1100 or 020 7741 4100, save where specific exceptions apply.

It will repay your eligible deposits (up to £120,000) within 7 working days, save where specific exceptions apply.

If you have not been repaid within these deadlines, you should contact the Deposit Guarantee Scheme since the time to claim reimbursement may be barred after a certain time limit. Further information can be obtained at <http://www.fscs.org.uk>.

Other important information

In general, all retail depositors and businesses are covered by Deposit Guarantee Schemes. Exceptions for certain deposits are stated on the website of the responsible Deposit Guarantee Scheme. Your bank, building society or credit union will also inform you of any exclusions from protection which may apply. If deposits are eligible, the bank, building society or credit union shall also confirm this on the statement of account.
