The continuum:
1 = I've got some serious work to do on this one
5= My friends would agree that this one is all me

I view submission as a positive thing—a way to make life work—and not as a weakness or last resort.

I assume the best of people in authority over me, even when I don't understand or agree with their decisions.

I'm willing to act on the advice of a trusted friend, even when they're telling me to do something I don't want to do.

current message series

Relationships don't just "happen," and we're not just born with "relational intelligence." Relationships take some intentional work, and skills that can be learned. Join us in May for ideas on bumping up your own Relational Intelligence Quotient and creating healthy relationships (and not just the k-i-s-s-i-n-g sort).

today

This weekend we'll be talking about submission and how it's a key to successful relationships.

FIRST time here? OR SECOND, OR THIRD, OR TENTH...

Hang around.

The weekend service is only a part of what goes on around here. It's fine to keep hanging out in the rafters, but when you're ready for some company, come on down. We've got a ton of ways for you to get connected—Community Groups, serving projects, big and small events. Stop by the Info Center and ask for the latest. We'd love to meet you.

did you KNOW

Crossroads.net is designed with different audiences in mind. The home page is all about the invitation to the weekend service. It provides a way for your friends who aren't here yet to explore this place prior to visiting. It's intentionally uncluttered by other stuff, because most people who've never been here just want the basic information on what this place is all about.

Once you're here, though, be sure to register for the site. If you don't, you'll miss a huge portion of the more timely communication and content, plus cool features like the Corkboard and discussion forums that require a login. Simply click "Register" in the top right-hand corner of the screen, create a username and provide your email address. That's it.

SOUNDS AND SONGS FROM SOUTH AFRICA

SUNDAY,
MAY 18
6PM
FREE

A free concert featuring Mamelodi's
Charity & Faith Mission Choir

You can't escape the joyful rhythms of Charity & Faith's choir. Now, check them out at a special concert with a fusion of inspirational African melodies and movement. Joining the choir will be P. Ann Everson-Price's Super Choir from right here in Cincinnati. An offering will be taken to benefit the Bophelong AIDS Hospice Crossroads helped build in Mamelodi.

Childcare is not provided; but trust us, your kids don't want to miss this.

meet
JENNIFER

After a trip to South Africa in 2005, Jennifer Davis helped to start Beaded Hope, a business that employs women from South Africa who are impacted by HIV/AIDS. The women make beautiful, hand-made beadwork that is sold in the US, and a portion of all profits go to support the Bophelong Hospice.

What is your favorite thing about serving?

If I had to pick just one, I'd say seeing other people become passionate and engaged. It's so cool to see people come to Beaded Hope and offer their talents to make a difference for the women of Mamelodi.

If you'd like to get involved with Beaded Hope, check out the website at www.beadedhope.com.

your kids will
this

Kids' Club is designed to attract, connect, and transform the lives of kids around here. From the rubbery stair treads, to the fun songs and lessons, to that amazing club house climbing thing in 2nd grade, Kids' Club is created just FOR kids. They'll also learn something that is relevant to their lives each week.

To see what your kid learned this week, go to www.crossroads.net/kc to view the lesson and the small group discussion questions.

If you've got questions about Kids' Club or you'd like to spend time hanging out with some great kids, contact Kim Botto at kbotto@crossroads.net or 513.731.7400 x520.
