weekend of July 9–10.

We heard you loud and clear, and we're going back to the original 11:45am service. Don't be that guy showing up 10 minutes late.

Weekends at Crossroads

We have a lot of fun here on the weekends—we present basic, biblical truths using the music we like and great jokes. We don't believe in disconnecting from the things we enjoy just because we're in "church." But we use them to show how the Bible can apply to our everyday lives.

your kids will LOVE this

Kids can be part of something designed just for them at Crossroads during weekend services. It's called Kids' Club—and it's freakin' fantastic! We use everything from sweet video to rockin' music (and maybe even some googly eyes) to create awesome experiences that show kids how to be a part of God's story right now. Regardless of personality, energy level or special needs, all kids are invited. crossroadskidsclub.net

SPARK, Crossroads' annual summer series, focuses on "IDEAS TO IGNITE YOUR LIFE."

Summer is different than the rest of the year; we find time to relax, recharge and be inspired. So get ready to hear from friends in our city and around the world, who have provocative, compelling ideas about life, faith, and knowing God—ideas that are igniting good things in their lives and have the power to ignite good things in the lives of you and your friends. Each weekend you'll hear from two speakers about two unrelated topics, but you can be sure you will get a spark.

Alli is a part of the Content Team at Crossroads and is also enrolled at Dallas Theological Seminary. She and her husband, Bill, live in the beautiful chaos of four kids (ages 10, 8, 6, 4) in Anderson Township where Bill has a law firm. An introvert who's often mistaken for an extrovert, she feels like a "cool nerd." (Bill says only true nerds say things like that.)

matt castleman

Matt is the Executive Producer of the weekend experience at Crossroads. He is a professional performer who has worked both locally and nationally since he was nine and has a strong passion for including others in epic stories and adventures—as well as eating bacon, watching “The Office” and drinking scotch around a bonfire with friends. Matt lives in Norwood with his wife, Catie, and two daughters.
