

"It's funny, before going through the group meetings I almost certainly would've said I would prefer to do FreedUp independently. But having actually gone through the group meetings the past four weeks, I would recommend the group. I wouldn't have gotten as much out of it."

Groups Season starts

April 12th!

thrive financially.
grow spiritually.

Group Experience

Thrive financially and grow spiritually with your group

We're all at very different places when it comes to personal finances. It's good to know that discovering financial freedom regarding money and the future isn't just for people living in debt. In order to thrive, each person needs help discovering their next steps for achieving measurable changes in their financial life.

The FreedUp group experience doesn't involve awkward moments talking about your money with your friends. And it doesn't require a financial advisor to lead the group.

Through the six-week program your group leader will act as a facilitator to guide your group through discussions on the three big ideas of FreedUp:

1. We are free when we are faithful stewards
2. A faithful steward is both a diligent earner and prudent spender
3. A prudent spender is a generous giver first, a wise saver, and a cautious debtor

Exploring the Biblical and practical approaches in FreedUp with your group or with your friends makes the experience more rewarding.

How to get started:

- After April 2 visit crossroads.net/freedup to download the Group Facilitator Guide and the FreedUp app.
- Meet with your group or grab some friends to explore the FreedUp content together.
- Discover the financial and spiritual freedom God has for you!

NOTE: FreedUp isn't a campaign, you won't be asked to donate. And it's not a Journey, so group work isn't required, but it is recommended!