Current Exhibition

Angel Otero
Agua Salada

2 May – 18 October
Wednesday – Sunday, 12 – 5 pm

Angel Otero makes his UK debut this spring, featuring a deeply personal body of work completed during an artist residency in Somerset.

Known for his physically immersive approach to paint as material, Otero transforms the medium itself—scraping, layering and peeling dried oil paint to create richly textured compositions that hover between abstraction and figuration.

Moving his studio practice from New York and Puerto Rico temporarily to Somerset, the residency provided Otero with the opportunity to continue his exploration of memory, place and meaning in the context of a new environment.

Education Lab Echoes

2 May – 18 October

Wednesday – Sunday, 10 am – 5 pm

The ‘Education Lab: Echoes’ accompanies the exhibition ‘Angel Otero. Agua Salada,’ and explores how memory shapes who we are.

Developed in collaboration with Museum To You, a Somerset-based charity supporting older adults in care settings and our youth collective, Arthaus, the Education Lab centres on intergenerational exchange and collective creativity.

Community stories, short films and a collaborative memory wall will develop over the course of the exhibition, alongside a soundscape co-produced with local care home residents, inspired by Angel Otero’s reflections on people, place and personal fragments.

Oudolf Field

Wednesday – Sunday, 10 am – 5 pm

Piet Oudolf, the acclaimed Dutch landscape designer, has created the landscaping scheme for the entire site, in collaboration with Urquhart & Hunt. This includes the Oudolf Field—a large perennial meadow situated behind the gallery buildings—and Courtyard Garden in the farmyard.

Carefully shaped and planted, the garden echoes the tradition of classical gardens, but the variety of species and combination of plants creates a looseness, softening the formality of its appearance.

At the top of Oudolf Field sits the Radić Pavilion. Designed by Chilean architect Smiljan Radić, it was installed at Hauser & Wirth Somerset in March 2015, following its unveiling the previous year as the Serpentine Gallery 2014 Pavilion.

Roth Bar

Wednesday – Sunday, 12 – 5 pm

Roth Bar is a site-specific artwork situated within the Threshing Barn at Hauser & Wirth Somerset.

Created by artist Oddur Roth, grandson of the late German-born Swiss artist Dieter Roth, the bar is a dynamic, ever-changing installation composed of salvaged materials and objects from reclamation yards in the surrounding area, inspired by the history of Durslade Farm.

The artwork is available to view during gallery opening hours and is activated as a fully functioning bar for specific events.

Alongside Roth Bar, a wider public program of gallery presentations, talks and community events take place within the Threshing Barn.

Da Costa

Wednesday – Saturday, 12 – 3 pm and 5.30 – 9.30 pm

Sunday, 12 – 4 pm

Da Costa is inspired by Iwan Wirth’s maternal grandfather, who originated from the small mountainous village of Rivamonte Agordino in the Veneto region of Northern Italy. He emigrated to Switzerland in the early 20th Century, where he opened a small restaurant, much loved for its simple, honest fare.

A century later, and some 800 miles from that first restaurant, Da Costa continues this culinary adventure, using freshly grown, seasonal ingredients from Durslade Farm and the surrounding area to create dishes blending the best of both worlds: quintessential Englishness with Italian flair.

Long-time collaborator and architectural practice Laplace helped bring Da Costa to life, through the reimagining of the 74-cover restaurant space built by Bruton-based locals Rob and Sam Moorse.

Jenny Holzer Stone Trail

In 2015, inspired by Oudolf Field and the surrounding landscape, Jenny Holzer commissioned local craftsmen to carve boulders from native Somerset Purbeck Thornback stone.

The texts engraved are taken from Anne Carson's English translation of the ancient Greek poet, Sappho's incomplete verse, 'If Not, Winter: Fragments from Sappho.'

It takes approximately 25 minutes to walk the stone trail from start to finish.
