For your hotel website

Introducing Peloton

Peloton Members often search hotel websites to find out if they have Peloton Bikes on property when planning their travel. We recommend including the following info on your hotel website so Members and travelers know what to expect ahead of their stay:

- # of Peloton Bikes in your fitness center
- Guest rooms with Peloton Bikes (and how to book or request)
- Type of pedals on each Peloton Bike:
 - Dual-sided SPD clips with toe-cages (*most likely and recommended)
 - Delta-compatible clips (and if the hotel offers Peloton Bike compatible shoes for guest use)
- Getting started with Peloton

If your hotel wants to further promote its on-property Peloton experience, look ahead for more robust copy recommendations and guidance in this toolkit.

Some ground rules

We understand that maintaining a consistent brand style is important, so feel free to adapt our recommended copy to meet your brand voice. However, we ask that you follow our guidelines when naming Peloton products, Memberships, and other ownable terms. These are the words and how we style them, the rest is up to you.

Important call-out

In each asset, the first reference to the “Peloton” name should be accompanied by the “®” symbol; e.g. Peloton®, Peloton® Bike.

A few other things...

We appreciate your hotel's support in sharing the Peloton experience with your guests through your on-property and digital channels, but there are a few other rules of the road that we ask you follow.

Please reach out to commercialmarketing@onepeloton.com if you have any questions about usage of the Peloton name, logo or images on your hotel's digital channels or at your property.

PLEASE DON'T

- Imply or state that your facility is an exclusive provider of Peloton Bikes
- Refer to or suggest any kind of official partnership between Peloton and your hotel or hotel brand
- Refer to your fitness center, or the space where your Peloton Bikes are placed, as a "Peloton Studio"

(We're happy to work with you to design a fitness space that meets your wellness needs and brand standards. Connect with your Peloton Commercial sales rep or commercialsales@onepeloton.com if we can help!)

- Use the following language when referring to Peloton, Peloton Bikes, or the space where the Bikes sit at your hotel:
 - "Official Peloton partner"
 - "Peloton studio"
 - "Spinning classes by Peloton"
 - "Spin studio"
 - "Spin bike"
- Use "Peloton" as a noun; e.g. calling the Peloton Bike "a Peloton" or "your Peloton"
