THE HISTORY OF THE KORNHAUS IN BERNE

The Kornhaus in Berne was built between 1711 and 1718 with sandstone from Ostermundigen. It is counted among the major works of Bernese High Baroque. The three upper floors were used as a granary, while the great space on the ground floor served as a market hall on market day and the cellar housed barrels filled with tithed and domain wines. «Venice sits on water, but Berne sits on wine» was a saying from this time.

At the beginning of the 19th century, the situation changed dramatically. Berne lost the lucrative administrative territories in the canton Vaud and the canton Aargau. The supply of food provisions was largely privatized and the system of wages in kind for public officials – in the form of wood, grain, and wine – was subsequently abolished. Grain storage facilities lost their proper function.

After a period of diverse usage, the Kornhauskeller was leased as an ale house. In the upper floors, there was now an industrial museum run by the canton; only the grain market remained in its original location. In the cellar, innkeepers served up cheese and sausages on long tables and passed around wine from the vast barrels standing along the side walls.

The agricultural economy continued to slide. And so it was that in 1893, architect Friedrich Schneider was given the job of redesigning the high vaulted space into a venue where festivities could be held. He installed the wooden galleries, opened up the cellar with an impressive set of stairs, and designed a simple decorative scheme for the walls. Prompted by the painter, heraldist, and municipal councilman Rudolf Mürger (1862–1929), the city building administration announced a competition in 1897 aimed at providing the cellar with more colorful painted decoration.

Mürger submitted a proposal and received the commission. For this project – a representation of canton Berne, with the coats of arms of all its regions, the aphorisms of Otto von Greyerz, painted ribbons with the notes of regional Lieder, and indigenous flowers and animals – he drew his inspiration from the Pre-Raphaelites and the early Art Nouveau period.

The twelve columns bear the most important traditional costumes of the Bernese women. In the spandrels of the arch are 31 musicians in traditional German men's costumes of the Renaissance; among them, incidentally, is Ferdinand Hodler with a drum and a single-handed flute (who can be found in the gallery to the right). More remote mythological elements include the man in the moon, the dragon, a grain angel, the mermaid, and the water crone. A folkloristic panorama with the character of a painted history book was thus created.

The Kornhauskeller enjoyed great popularity for many years. Along with the Clock Tower and the Ogre's Fountain, this building is one of the most significant sights Berne has to offer.

In 1998, the city began searching for a leaseholder with innovative ideas who could bring new life to the Kornhauskeller. They decided on the Bindella companies, which manage, among other things, the Ristorante Verdi in Berne and 30 restaurants in Thun, Solothurn, Fribourg, Basel, Baden, Zurich, Winterthur, and Schaffhausen.
