"It's Friday. You're ready to meet your friends at a local restaurant and you don't have any cash, just in case of emergencies; you need to go to a cashpoint. So your taxi drops you at the nearest cash machine to the restaurant. It's a brand new machine. Its touch screen and keypad are shiny and new. So. take your card out of your wallet or purse. Insert the card into the card slot. Type in your card number and press enter. Select enter. Select the service you want. Choose account balance and press the appropriate key. Good you have sufficient money in your account for tonight, just. It asks you if you want another service. You choose 'withdrawal'. The display shows you '10','20','40', '50' and '100' pounds. Select '10' pounds because you're going to pay for your meal and drinks with your debit or credit card. The machine asks you if you want a receipt. Press 'no'. Take your money and your card. Bon appetit. Enjoy your evening."
