

LIVING WITH NATURE

David Wiseman—known for his bronze fruiting branches that climb walls and ceilings—presents his first piece of jewelry, exclusively for Cultured.

Cloud Fruit Necklace, 2018, $3,500, is a porcelain pendant necklace with gold vermeil mesh rope and hardware. It is an edition of 12 with four artist proofs.

“Jewelry is something I’ve thought about for years. Though I hate the expression, I’ve been making jewelry for homes for a decade now. The necklace starts with a piece I sculpted about four years ago as an element that went into my chandeliers and ceiling installations. The tufted cloud fruit is one of my principal patterns, and I’ve been rendering it in a beautiful gradation that changes scale from fruit and flower to pure pattern. This fruit has been integral to all of the things that I’m working on—from gates to walls and now, jewelry.” —David Wiseman
