CREATE THE FUTURE IN 2025

We are witnessing a fundamental shift in the world of money. New governments, regulators, and business leaders are faced with unprecedented AI-boosted generational change. This year’s agenda focuses on stories told through four distinct themes addressing the very root of what’s happening now and where the industry is going next:

Fintech Spring	Age of Infrastructure	Global Payments Race	Securing Trust
Is this finally the moment ‘fintech’ becomes ‘financial services’ Fintech Spring has arrived with IPOs launching, AI accelerating innovation, banks embracing startups, and regulations shifting. This is the start of a new era, where its convergence marks fintech's exciting evolution into mainstream financial services	Will fintech’s next wave of innovation be ‘invisible’? Open finance may drive banking consolidation through mergers and acquisitions. Meanwhile, tokenization and stablecoins are transforming technology stacks, prompting banks to focus on core strengths amid fintech competition. We're in the Age of Infrastructure.	Is the potential of money movement limitless AND borderless? The Global Payments Race is on! The payments landscape is evolving through interoperability, AI, and digital infrastructure. While it may seem like a competitive race, success will emerge through collaboration. Coopetition and cross-border, cross-industry partnerships will define the next phase of fintech innovation.	How do we secure trust in uncertain times? Economic systems are complex and rapidly evolving. In uncertain times, Securing Trust remains fundamental to finance. The future of trust lies in infrastructure: real-time fraud solutions, AI, and biometrics that create seamless consumer experiences.
Critical Topics Include:
