Multi-party payments

built for how your business actually works

Run your marketplace your way – with modular capabilities that flex around your needs.

What if moving money between multiple parties became an opportunity, not a challenge?

We help power your growth with an end-to-end solution featuring four modular capabilities so you can efficiently build the multi-party payments flow you need, at scale. It's simple – you can choose to use the full stack or just a component that fits your current strategy. Connect every stage of the seller journey to deliver an uninterrupted marketplace experience.

Four capabilities. One payments flow that's entirely yours.

Whether you are a franchise looking to streamline operations, a marketplace looking to expand into new countries or a software platform upgrading user-focused services, we've designed the features to support you today and in the future.
