HISTORY

Name: West Ham United Women

Founded: 1991

Ground: Victoria Road

Manager: Rehanne Skinner

League: Barclays Women's Super League

West Ham United Women have been an integral part of the club's legacy since the 1970s, when the "ladies section" was first introduced. By 1991, the women's team officially became part of West Ham United, marking the start of a new era for women's football at the club. In 1995, the team celebrated back-to-back promotions, solidifying its presence in English football.

The 1998–99 season saw the Hammers reach their first cup final in the Russell Cup and finish as runners-up in the league. This success set the foundation for the team's future, which culminated in their entry into the FA Women's Super League (WSL) in 2018. In their debut WSL season, they achieved an impressive 6th-place finish.

In 2019, another landmark moment came when West Ham United Women played their first match at the iconic London Stadium against Tottenham Hotspur. A record 24,790 supporters attended, making it the second-largest crowd in WSL history at the time.

The 2025–26 season will be the club's 35th season in existence and our seventh in the Barclays Women's Super League, the highest level of England's football pyramid. Alongside competing in the WSL, the club will also contest two domestic cup competitions: the Adobe Women's FA Cup and the Subway Women's League Cup. On 20 July 2023 Rehanne Skinner was appointed manager of West Ham United F.C. Women, becoming our first female manager in the WSL era.

We're excited for what lies ahead and look forward to your support on matchdays.

Come on you Irons!
