I am Dr Kavin Devani, Assistant Professor in the Department of Neurosurgery at Lokmanya Tilak Municipal Medical College and General Hospital in India. It is a hospital which not only caters to the needs of the world's largest slum population, Dharavi, but also to road traffic accidents and the local population. I specialise in the treatment of diseases related to the spine and brain, and advocate an approach to this field which is aggressive as well as balanced.

What problems were you attempting to solve when you started using ClinicalKey?

The field of Neuroscience is rapidly advancing. To offer best care and services to our patients, I strive to keep myself well informed with the latest advancements and practices concerning my field. It is imperative to refer to latest articles and keep oneself updated to the latest nuances. I feel ClinicalKey does a great job in helping me stay updated and keeping me well informed about the updates.

From your point of view, what are the biggest benefits you found in using ClinicalKey in your day to day routine?

All the latest journals and ebooks are accessible to me at my fingertips. I can anytime open the webpage and read whatever I wish to read about in seconds. It's quick, readily accessible and has some of the best journals and books. It is a sort of a ready reckoner. Downloading the articles is easy, allowing comfortable offline reading.

What's the primary reason you would recommend ClinicalKey?

User friendly interface, easy access to the latest articles from top journals and easily accessible library of previous issues, easy access to some of the standard ebooks are some of the biggest advantages of using ClinicalKey. Apart from these, through ClinicalKey I access to the multimedia and procedure videos which is icing on the cake. Using ClinicalKey is hassle free and works wonderfully, I can rapidly navigate through it without any waste of time.
