

Celonis for Consulting

Accelerate value realization for you and your clients

FACT SHEET

Take targeted action on facts, not feelings

As a consultant, you're no stranger to the slow, painful old way of investigating client problems: process mapping.

But your resources are tight.
Your competition is fierce.
And your margins need to be higher.

Stop relying on sticky notes and subjective interviews. Up against labor shortages and economic crises, you need market-leading technology.

We have something for you.

Enter: Celonis for Consulting

Purpose built for consultants, Celonis for Consulting makes process discovery and improvement a science, not an art. It's a world where you:

- Take a digital X-ray of your client's operations
- Instantly see the process breakdowns
- Take data-driven targeted actions to fix them
- Accelerate value realization for your clients

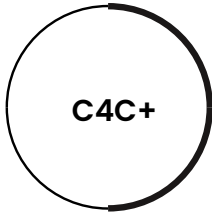

Thousands of consultants – including at Accenture, Deloitte, IBM and PwC – are already using it to gain the competitive edge, accelerate process discovery, and boost customer value realization.

Need to know more about Celonis? • This is us in 20 seconds.

Celonis for Consulting gives you access to Celonis technology so you can eliminate millions (even billions) of dollars in unseen corporate inefficiencies. This is us:

Celonis reveals and fixes the inefficiencies you can't see.

This is important because the world has moved from operating on a handful of systems, to running processes over hundreds of systems. These systems don't play nice together.

It leaves a lot of room for inefficiency to hide.

These process inefficiencies are the silent killers of performance.

They hurt your client's business performance and they hurt our planet.

So Celonis integrates real-time data to provide an X-ray of processes: identifying inefficiencies, recommending improvements, and taking targeted action to help companies perform at levels they never thought possible.
