FRIDAY 15 MARCH

YOUR FUNDRAISING GUIDE

HELLO THERE

We're over the moon that you're joining us to Do Something Funny For Money on Friday 15 March.

Let's bring the nation together to have a laugh, raise loads of cash and help tackle some serious problems.

Right now, many people across the UK and around the world are being forced to make truly impossible choices, every single day. But we know that when people come together for Red Nose Day, we can make a huge difference.

So we need you and your brilliant community, now more than ever.

Inside this handy little guide, you'll find everything you need to get set for some fun all in the name of raising the all important money. Because having a laugh really can make a serious difference.

Remember, on Red Nose Day the sky's the limit, so think big, bold and downright daft. Take on the challenge or bake the cake, we don't mind what you do. Just have fun!

Your fundraising this Red Nose Day could help put food on plates and roofs over heads, keep little ones safe and help support families affected by conflict and climate change.

It really is the perfect moment to get serious about silly.

Let's all come together this Red Nose Day and Do Something Funny for Money.

WHAT'S INSIDE?

HOW YOUR MONEY HELPS

Many people across the UK and around the world are trying to get by in the face of poverty and injustice. Your fundraising could help provide shelter for those that need it. It will help fund organisations here in the UK and around the world working tirelessly to provide the services most needed; at the time and place they are needed most.

When Kaitlyn was 18, she found herself homeless and walking all night because she was afraid to sleep rough on the streets.

Thanks to Streetlife, which is funded by Comic Relief, Kaitlyn now has shelter and support. She has become actively involved in country walking and mountaineering, is volunteering at local charities, and wants to be a support worker for other young people.

Your fundraising this Red Nose Day could help people just like Kaitlyn. You've proved this year after year; let's make this one the best one yet.

Do SOMETHING FUNNY FOR MONEY

It takes different kinds of people to be all kinds of funny. It takes different kinds of people to raise all kinds of money. Thanks for taking the first step and signing up to fundraise this Red Nose Day. Now it's time to decide what you are going to do.

It's people like you - and your incredible fundraising - that make change happen.

The impact of poverty, conflict and climate change continues to be felt further and wider - and we need your support more than ever.

Grab your friends, rally your family or go it alone - we don't mind what you do but we've got some great ideas to inspire you to do your bit to help others.

FABULOUS

FUNDRAISING IDEAS

Bake up a storm

Showstopping and stunning or wonky, weird and wonderful, your brilliant bakes could bring in some serious dough. Set up a stall or deliver to family and friends, and turn your cakes into cash, cash, cash.

Top Tip

For Red Nose Day recipes, head to comicrelief.com/fundraising. No time to bake? Just buy - we won't tell. Look the part in our stylish aprons available from your local Homesense store.

£40

could help fund teacher training in Kenya to ensure children with a disability can get the most out of school.

Dine for dosh

Whether you're a master chef or a ready-meal maestro, host a dinner party in return for a donation. Bonus points for nose-themed dishes (snoseberries and cream, anyone?).

Top Tip

Remember: you can catch up on Red Nose Day on BBC iPlayer later, so you can pay full attention to what's on your plate. Yum!

£100

could help provide a week's worth of nutritious meals and activities for two children over half term.

Red to toe

Dust off your ruby slippers, dig out those deelely boppers, pop on some face paint and of course a Red Nose, and dress in red from head to toe, in return for a donation. Remember: the redder the better!

Top Tip

Look the part while fundraising, for Noses visit amazon.co.uk/comicrelief and for t-shirts head in-store or online at tkmaxx.com or visit comicrelief.com/shop to get your hands on both.

£150

could help provide families with winter warm kits, containing energy top-up cards, blankets, food supplies and slow cookers.

Challenge yourself

Get sponsored to tackle an epic (or downright daft) challenge, on your own or as a team. How about a 5K skipping race with forfeits on the way, or a 24-hour dance-a-thon dressed in onesies? Or a truly gruelling all-day silence. Shh...

Make your parkrun funny for money

Whether you're a regular or a parkrun first-timer, make your walk or run funny for money on Saturday 16 March. Donate to Red Nose Day, then go all out with the fancy dress (wait, was I just lapped by a banana?), cross the finish line backwards, tell jokes as you go, or simply don a Red Nose and run like the wind.

Dress to impress

Forget dress-down Friday, donate to dress up and pop on the famous Red Nose. Think bad-taste combos, famous faces, or ballgowns, tiaras and tuxedos. You could even strut your stuff with a fashion show, in return for audience donations.

Get quizzical

Think you nose it all? Put those brain cells to the test with our free quiz at comicrelief.com/fundraising. Host a pay-to-play lunchtime brain-teaser, or make an evening of it, selling tickets for an online or in-person event. Friendly (or fierce) competition is strongly encouraged.

Do your own thing

Got a better idea? Go for it! The funnier the better – because when it comes to Red Nose Day, no idea is too weird or wonderful. So get creative to bring in the cash.

Whatever you do, whoever you do it with, raise a smile and have a laugh. Now for some top tips to get you right on your way...

TOP TIPS TO RAISE EVEN MORE

Six tips to top up your total...

Set a fundraising target

Setting a target is known to boost your final total. So aim high, tell the world and see if you can smash it.

Make a week of it

Plan a week of Red Nose fun to really build excitement and keep the cash rolling in.

Shout about it

Put up the posters available online, send out emails, tell everyone you see – anything to promote your fundraising events and drum up donations.

Go social

Share your fundraising on social media, tagging @comicrelief on TikTok, X, Instagram or Facebook with #RedNoseDay.

Make it creative and unique

Let your imagination run wild and dream up an unforgettable fundraising idea. Anything's possible on Red Nose Day!

Donate with JustGiving

Activate your JustGiving page and share the link or QR code on email and social media.

FABULOUS FUNDRAISERS

For Red Nose Day 2023, fundraising superstar Paula Pearson raised an incredible £1,100 with her fancy dress fundraiser.

The mum of three donned a different outfit every day on the school run for a month leading up to Red Nose Day. She raised funds and smiles by appearing as a minion, a fairy queen, Big Bird and the Cat in the Hat to name just a few.

Something truly simple and fun can raise an incredible amount. Want to see yourself here next year? Send us your stories and snaps at comicrelief.com/shareyourstory

OUR WONDERFUL PARTNERS

Sainsbury's

Sainsbury's
Good food for all of us

Sainsbury's and Comic Relief are working together to help tackle food poverty. Through our Nourish the Nation programme, we are working together to fund a range of incredible projects, initiatives, and interventions across the UK and in selected countries internationally that help to provide immediate support for those facing food insecurity, as well as the education and skills to drive lasting change.

BRITISH AIRWAYS

British Airways

Thanks to the generosity of British Airways colleagues and customers, Flying Start has raised over £28m since 2010. From customers donating spare change on flights, to thousands of Flying Start Champions doing their own fundraising challenges, we couldn't be prouder of our partnership. This year will be no different, with our Flying Start heroes going above and beyond to help put food on plates, roofs over heads and keep little ones safe.

Maltesers

Maltesers

Maltesers has been raising money for Comic Relief for over ten years, and this year we're working together to support projects across the UK that support women to thrive and tackle the challenges of poverty and injustice. With the right support and working together, we believe women can achieve anything they set their minds to and remove the barriers they face.

TikTok

TikTok

The amazing TikTok community are once again showing up to support Red Nose Day. TikTok LIVE will be creating some iconic Red Nose Day virtual gifts for users to send, and so much more. Make sure you check out @ComicRelief on TikTok to see what we get up to.

Babybel

Babybel

Babybel are proud to be celebrating 25 years of partnership with Comic Relief and in this time, they have raised over £1.5 million. This year, Babybel want to get the nation giggling. Purchase a promotional Babybel pack to donate 5p to Comic Relief and scan the QR code to share a laugh with a famous face. Visit www.babybel.co.uk/comic-relief for more information on how to join the goodness and do something funny for money this Red Nose Day.

Holland
& Barrett

Holland & Barrett

Holland & Barrett is Comic Relief's newest partner for 2024. Together, we'll be doing something funny for money for Red Nose Day, and finding ways to move well to live well. For its first Red Nose Day, you'll be able to donate every time you shop with H&B online or instore, and look out for the specially selected range of products that will be offering a donation to Comic Relief with every purchase. Together we'll make wellness a way of life for everyone and have some fun along the way.

LEGO

The LEGO Group

We're so thrilled to be joining forces with the LEGO Group for the third year running. Our partnership is all about encouraging children to get creative, and learn through play. This year we'll be putting the kids in charge, and encouraging them to find ways to build a better future for people and the planet.

Lenny Henry

The Quarto Group

This Red Nose Day we are thrilled to announce that we have teamed up with The Quarto Group to bring you the next book in the truly inspirational Little People, BIG DREAMS book series. Quarto will be donating 50p from the sale of every Little People, BIG DREAMS: Lenny Henry book sold. Yes! Our very own Lenny Henry will be sharing his story to inspire the children of today to make a change in the world tomorrow.

DRESS THE PART TO GIVE SOMEONE A FRESH START

The exclusive Red Nose Day range at TK Maxx is back, and this year the fabulous range will feature iconic Aardman characters like Wallace & Gromit, Shaun the Sheep and friends.

Every T-shirt includes a donation to Comic Relief to help change the lives of children and young people in the UK and around the world. What's more, all the cotton in the range is made with Fairtrade cotton grown by farmers in Uganda, supported by TK Maxx's Sustainable Trade Programme and Comic Relief, meaning your purchase does double the good.
