High Altitude Spots in Southwest Germany

STUTT GART - Whether scaling cliffs, soar through the air, or crossing dizzying bridges, thrill awaits at every altitude in Baden-Württemberg. Adventure seekers can climb the rocky landscapes along the Neckar and Danube rivers, paraglide above the Swabian Alb, race along rollercoasters at Europa-Park Resort, or enjoy a zeppelin tour over Lake Constance for breathtaking aerial views.

On the Edge: Climbing Adventures Along the Neckar & Danube Rivers

The Hessigheim Rock Garden on the Neckar river is not only renowned for its excellent wine but also as a top destination for climbing and bouldering. Rugged shell limestone formations rise up to around 18 metres and offer approximately 130 different routes of varying difficulty. Down further to the south, the Upper Danube Nature Park also provides ideal conditions for climbers. Information boards mark which rocks are open to climbing, and visitors planning their trip can contact the DAV Regional Association for additional guidance.

A Bird's Eye Adventure: Tandem Paragliding Over the Swabian Alb

Imagine the thrill of soaring through the skies, the wind in your face, the breathtaking views - that's exactly what you'll experience during a tandem paragliding flight over the Swabian Alb. Accompanied by an experienced pilot, visitors glide over Beuren, taking in the ruins of Hohenneuffen Castle and the Celtic settlement of Heidengraben. The ultimate way to capture the region's unique panoramas.

Up in the Air: Balloon Flights Over the Lauter Valley

Hot air ballooning is all about surrendering to the winds - guided by an experienced pilot, who knows how to read thermals, as the balloons cannot really be steered. As you rise slowly into the sky, you leave everyday life behind and drift peacefully over the landscape below. In the Swabian Alb, visitors can enjoy a leisurely flight over the Lauter Valley and its biosphere reserve with expert balloonist Rudi Fuchs, who ensures a safe and unforgettable journey through the clouds.

Dizzying Heights: Suspension Bridges of the Black Forest

Feel the thrill of heights along the Black Forest's spectacular suspension bridges. Walk the Wildline in Bad Wildbad that links the Sommerberg to the treetop path - it stretches 380 metres long, stands 60 metres high, is just over a metre wide, and offers treetop views over the Black Forest. Whilst the Blackforestline near Todtnau blends harmoniously into the landscape, with the Todtnau Waterfall plunging deep beneath your feet. Opening in May 2026, the curved Neckarline in Rottweil will provide thrilling views of the region's oldest town.

Free Falling: Europa-Park Resort

Thrills and excitement await at the Europa-Park Resort. Experience total free fall on the legendary Silver Star - one of Europe's tallest rollercoasters at 73 metres high. Or feel a vertical catapult launch whilst riding blue fire Megacoaster. The wooden rollercoaster, Wodan, will bring you closer to the Norse gods. While both Euro-Mir and the new Voltron Nevera - with Nikola Tesla as its patron - will deliver rapid flights to dizzying heights. Every ride promises excitement - from steep drops to wild twists, and even moments of complete weightlessness.

Flying High: Hirschgrund Zipline, Schiltach

The Hirschgrund Zipline, near Schiltach, offers unforgettable thrills over the Kinzig Valley. One of Germany's longest zipline attraction, it soars visitors along seven tracks, some stretching 570 metres long and reaching 83 metres high. At speeds of up to 60 kilometres per hour, every ride is a test of courage set against the backdrop of stunning natural surroundings.

Soaring Serenity: Zeppelin Flights Over Lake Constance & Upper Swabia

A gentle hum accompanies the majestic Zeppelin as it lifts off from its hangar in Friedrichshafen. Once at a cruising altitude of around 300 metres, passengers can unbuckle and move around freely; maybe watch the pilot at work, or simply enjoy the panoramic views. The landscape stretches out below - the shimmering waters of Lake Constance, the green hills of Upper Swabia, and the distant foothills of the Alps - all unfolding in breathtaking detail along eleven different routes.
